Science meets Science

NETWORK-
EVENT IM IZB

Thursday, June 29, 2023 | 10.45 to 13.00 Uhr

Welcome / Moderation

Dr. Peter Hanns Zobel, Managing Director of the IZB

Topic: News from the IZB

Speaker

Prof. Dr. Karl Duderstadt

Head of the Research Group „Structure and Dynamics of Molecular Machines“, MPI of Biochemistry

Topic: Imaging the machines that reshape and remake chromosomes

High spatial and temporal resolution imaging approaches allow us to watch molecular pathways unfold in real time. We are using these methods to uncover the dynamic events during conflicts on chromosomes that can lead to misregulation and disease. We see a surprising resilience in the machines responsible for chromosome maintenance and the molecular consequences when things go wrong.

Speaker

Jens Klein

Founder & CEO Insempra GmbH

Topic: How Insempra combines life science and technology to make matter for new, better and more sustainable products on an industrial scale

Companies have relied on chemical production processes and petrochemicals for too long, depleting our planet's limited resources. Insempra's mission is to drive the regenerative revolution to collaborate with nature to produce new more sustainable ingredients for numerous products on an industrial scale. Insempra aims to drive a new regenerative mindset and collective action. The time to restore balance between people and planet has come.
